Top Gun Baseball will have a number of these Pro Days this year see our web site for Pro Day schedule.

Our Top Gun two (2) Elite teams will be selected from our Showcase Program for 2015. Our Showcases Pro Day will help Top Gun Baseball best determine our players for our two "Top Gun Elite National Tournament Teams" that will represent Top Gun Baseball in two (2) National Showcase Tournaments in October each year. We will stack up our best players in our program to compete on a National Level with the "Top Gun Elite Teams" name.

Top Gun will have a rising Sophomores Elite Team, and a rising Juniors Elite Team for 2015.

Top Gun Showcase Pro Days will quickly become one of the best ways for our players to be seen by college coaches and Major League Scouts. Also the National Events that our Top Gun Elite Teams will be attending will have the opportunity to be seen by nearly 309 NCAA Division I program, that regularly attend these events. Also coaches from Division II, Division III, NAIA and junior colleges attend these events. All 30 Major League teams also send scouts to these events, which greatly enhancing each player's visibility.

During our Pro Days Top Gun will be evaluating our players physical tools, consisting of hitting ability, fielding ability, speed/range, power potential, and arm strength. For a pitcher, we will evaluate his delivery and arm action, along with his selection of pitches, (fastball, curveball, changeup, etc.). We will also evaluate his project ability. We also will be evaluate his (hustle, character on and off the field,). Performance is important but anything can happen at a short Showcase event. Showcase events are open to each athlete in our program, so more than Pro Day may be attended.

Top Gun will document our Showcase Pro Day events by rankings for our athletes. This service will be provided for our players, and to scouts and college coaches. It will start with players attending the Pro Days. Many Top Gun players will be signed by colleges, and prospects will be drafted from our program.

Our Web site exposure to scouts and college coaches will be a huge access for our players.

Our Top Gun Web Site Pro Day stats will be an important scouting tool.

Top Gun Showcase Tab on our web site will give our more detailed information on each of our participants. During our Pro Days we will record activity on the field, our recorded detailed information will be very important for a players recognition. We will record our 60 yard dash times, throws from the infield, outfield, and behind the plates get times with radar gunned. Catchers get their pop times recorded and pitchers get evaluated and their velocities recorded also.

We will have a comprehensive report on our web site for each Top Gun Pro Day.

Top Gun will carefully analyze all of the information of our Pro Days before posting our results. We rely on personal observations, scouting reports, input from coaches and input from other scouts, trying to make our Top Gun Ranking as accurate as possible. The player ranking are regularly adjusted as we receive new Pro Day information. Some players will attend more multiple Pro Days.

Top Gun Pro Day will be our resource of picking our Top Gun Elite Teams.

We will only select our team from our Pro Day events. So it will be necessary to attend a Top Gun Pro Day so we will have your evaluation to be ranked. The more we see a player, the more we know about him, the more everyone knows about him. Our scouts will attend many high school events viewing players, and we will be continually talking to a network of professional scouts and college recruiters to identify the best players we have attending our Top Gun Pro Days.

Our goal is to have the most comprehensive and complete service to our athletes and to assist them in finding college scholarships, and to seen by Major League Scouts.
